J111 Pre-Worlds Regatta
30 & 31 August 2020

J111s Partner with North Sails

The J111 Pre-Worlds, an opportunity to practice skills in the Solent before the September World Championships. Now with the expert support provided by North Sails Coaching.

The International Regatta is being hosted by the Royal Ocean Racing Club, under invitation of the J-111 Northern European Fleet, with racing taking place for the Pre-Worlds on the 30th-31st August. Notice of Race and Entry is via RORC's Sailgate portal <https://rorc.sailgate.com>

North Sails' technical and sailing experts will be on hand to provide expert analysis to all participants at the competition in advance of the following World Championship from 2-5th September.

Competitors will be able to take advantage of North Sails coaching. Crews can then follow this up with the coaches ashore or during the evening debriefs at the RORC Clubhouse in Cowes. On-the-water drone footage will be shown and no doubt a few ales consumed at this great venue.

Jeremy Smart, Class Expert at North Sails observed:

"This is fantastic opportunity for competitors to experience the Solent in advance of the Championship and hone their skills to the local conditions."

With North Sails prize giving after racing on the Sunday and Monday, there will be a chance for supporters and sailors to mingle and enjoy the hospitality of the Club and exhibits from other partners and sponsors.

Simon Bamford the Fleet Captain added:

"With entertainment planned for the evenings, and with experts and professionals on-hand to advise, this is great opportunity for the Corinthian One Design Class to continue to push the limits."

The Fleet is grateful to North Sails for their support and looks forward to welcoming you to some World Class Sailing.
